

Learn to Play Therapy – Introductory Course 2 Day Workshop

Professor Karen Stagnitti

MON 3rd - TUE 4th July 2017
9:00am - 4:30pm

Rendezvous Hotel Melbourne
328 Flinders St, Melbourne VIC 3000
Heritage Lounge

ABOUT

Learn to Play therapy aims to develop the capacity in children in self-initiate their own pretend play. Being able to play is essential to children because through play children learn about themselves and their world. As children develop the ability to play they become more aware socially of the play of their peers and research has shown that language increases after Learn to Play Therapy.

The first day of this 2 day workshop provides participants with knowledge on the development of pretend play from 12 months to 5 years and how to use this knowledge as an assessment of a child's play ability using the Pretend Play Enjoyment Developmental Checklist. The links between pretend play, theory of mind, narrative language and self-regulation and self-esteem are also discussed.

On the second day the Learn to Play Therapy approach is explained and participants are taken through the principles and process of this therapy, which includes 11 key play skills that are an essential part of a child's ability to play.

The workshop uses a mixture of information giving, case studies, video analysis and practice of the key skills involved in the process of Learn to Play Therapy. This workshop would be valuable to therapists, early childhood teachers, social workers, psychologists and early intervention workers who work with families with children under 8 years of age who have a developmental delay.

Day 1

The development of pretend play

Pretend play and links to language, narrative, social skills, self-regulation and self-esteem

Assessment of pretend play using the Pretend Play Enjoyment Developmental Checklist

Day 2

The process and principles of Learn to Play Therapy

How to build play ability in children who find playing difficult

PRESENTER'S PROFILE

Professor Karen Stagnitti currently works as Professor, Personal Chair at the School of Health and Social Development at Deakin University, Victoria, Australia. She graduated with a Bachelor degree in Occupational Therapy from the University of Queensland. For over 30 years she has mainly worked in early childhood intervention programs in community-based settings as part of a specialist paediatric multidisciplinary team.

In 2003 she graduated from LaTrobe University with a Doctor of Philosophy. Her area of research is children's play. Karen has written five books on play. She also has over 80 national and international papers published as well as 20 book chapters. Her norm referenced standardised play assessment, the Child-Initiated Pretend Play Assessment was published in 2007. From this research, the Learn to Play approach to building play ability in children was developed through clinical work. Throughout the year, she is invited to present her work on the play ability of children nationally and internationally. Currently she teaches into the Master of Child Play Therapy at Deakin University.

COST

$650 (GST incl.)

Registration is now open. Please register online at www.learntoplayevents.com/events